North East LHIN Holds Community Engagements on How to Realign Health Care Services in the Cochrane District

The North East Local Health Integration Network (NE LHIN) will hold engagement sessions in six Cochrane District communities between Monday February 27 and Friday, March 2.

These upcoming sessions follow engagements held last June in which more than 100 people participated and offered their input into what needed to be done to increase access to care for people living in the Cochrane District. Next week's engagements will focus on how to realign health care services to ensure people are receiving the health care services they need in the right place, at the right time and for the right cost. A facilitator, along with NE LHIN staff, will offer a presentation on local health care facts and figures, followed by engagement questions.

All members of the community are encouraged and welcomed to attend and bring their thoughts on how to develop a more patient-focused, seamless and effective local health care system. The schedule includes:
