At Health Quality Ontario, we believe patient engagement is essential to improving the quality of our health system.

Are you interested in helping to improve the quality of health care across Ontario?

Health Quality Ontario's Patient, Family and Public Advisors Program is made up of volunteers from across Ontario who bring unique and diverse perspectives based on their personal experience with the health system.

We are seeking individuals from underrepresented communities to join our Program to better understand all needs and include broader representation of people from across the province.
